Announcements

Attention Deaconesses There will be a meeting today following the fellowship meal in the library.

Today's Worship Service Music is based on Irish hymn tunes.

Vespers Tonight at 7 pm will be led by David Ignatowski, who will present background information about well-loved hymns and give his personal testimony. You are invited to come early (6:30 pm) and enjoy light snack refreshments which will be furnished, and stay after vespers and play table games.

The Plant Based Cooking Class continues Wednesday at 5:30 with many showing great interest in ways to improve one's lifestyle. This week's topic will deal with problems in the food chain. Science now provides reasons as to why God specified the plant-eating animals as being allowed for human consumption after the flood. Industrial toxins which bio-accumulate in the fat of animals were present in the post-flood world as well. The implications of these issues speak urgently for the adoption of a plant based diet. Thank you for your prayers, and for the help provided by members of our church family.

Vespers Next Week Kristopher Mercy will be baptized during the vesper program, which begins at 4:30. Following vespers, a light supper potluck is planned.

Camp Meeting Online Registration is open at www.misda.org from March 15-26. If you have any questions, click the link for "Frequently Asked Questions". If your question is not answered there or you need additional information, please call 517-316-1512.
